Nature of Organization

Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center, home of three Nobel laureates, is an independent, nonprofit research institution dedicated to the development and advancement of biomedical research to eliminate cancer and other potentially fatal diseases.

Duties and Responsibilities

The Moens lab studies early development of the nervous system using the zebrafish as a genetic model system.
We are seeking work study eligible students for the following duties: 1) preparing laboratory reagents (solutions, bacterial plates, other tools and reagents for molecular biology and zebrafish genetics); 2) maintaining the aquatic facility (feeding fish, cleaning tanks, maintaining water quality); and 3) helping with crossing and PCR-based genotyping of zebrafish stocks.

Minimum Qualifications

Applicants must be work study eligible.
Applicants must be majoring in any area of science. No prior lab experience is required outside of lab classes. Careful attention to detail, a willingness to take direction and reliability are absolutely essential attributes for this position. Students should be eligible for 6 - 8 hours of work study time per week. A regular work schedule will be worked out with Dr. Moens based on your class schedule.

Educational Benefits

Research and laboratory techniques including genetics, molecular biology, and basic lab principles.
