

Communication Resources NW – Meg Winch

PHILOSOPHY STATEMENT

Communication Resources Northwest has provided organizational development services to public and private organizations for more than 20 years, maintaining a strong local presence in Washington. Led by Meg Winch, our group of consultants specializes in team communication, training design and development, and facilitation—providing a full range of these services to public clients. Our organizational development work is focused on best practices in both the consulting services we provide as well as the ways we provide service to our customers. As tireless client advocates, we work harder and provide higher-quality products to meet the diverse needs of clients during tight economic times.

AREAS OF EXPERTISE/RESULTS

- Conflict Resolution
- Keynote Speaking
- Retreat/Meeting Facilitation
- Team Building/Development
- Quantitative and Qualitative Research
- Change Management Facilitation
- Leadership Coaching
- Process Improvement Facilitation
- Strategic Planning Facilitation
- Partnering

EXPERIENCE / SELECTED PROJECTS

- University of Washington Business Communication Research
- King County project management processes and training design and development; various department team building; train-the-trainer program; shelter operations manager coaching; Metro Transit Team partnering on critical change projects; and Natural Resources and Parks facilitation, outreach, training, and research
- Seattle City Light train-the-trainer program; communication strategy planning; and work and asset management system facilitation
- US Army Corps of Engineers partnering, planning, facilitation, and mediation
- Facilitation for University of Illinois; University of Missouri; University of Michigan; and University of New Mexico

CREDENTIALS

- Doctor of Philosophy coursework in Organizational Communication, University of Washington
- MS, Organizational Communication/Small Group Dynamics, Purdue University
- BA, Speech Communication, German, University of Washington/University of Freiburg
- Keynote speaking at Washington State University School of Architecture and Construction, University of Washington School of Business, Society for Marketing Professional Services
- Chair, Snohomish County Human Rights Commission

SELECTED CLIENTS

- University of Washington
- State of Washington
- King County
- University of Illinois
- University of Michigan
- US Army Corps of Engineers
- Bellevue College
- City of Seattle
- Snohomish County
- University of New Mexico
- University of Missouri
- National Renewable Energy Laboratory

Contact the Alliance at 206-616-8461 OR alliance@u.washington.edu.