Office of the Vice Provost for Planning and Budgeting

Mission, Vision, and Values

Mission:

We support the University of Washington community in accomplishing its goals through

- Planning and allocating financial and physical resources, and
- Providing analysis and information services to enhance decision-making, planning, and policy formation.

Vision:

Provide a gateway to timely, accurate, and complete information services. Actively partner with our customers and stakeholders in guiding strategic resource allocation, fostering new initiatives, and supporting dynamic decision-making.

Values:

We value...	Through:
Excellent customer service	...high-quality, responsive support.
Leadership	...promoting processes, resources, and opportunities.
Approachability and accessibility	...open communication, listening and open-mindedness with each other and with customers.
Sharing knowledge	...education, training, and open access to information.
Professionalism	...follow-through with honest, timely responses--DWYSYWD*. (Do what you say you will do!)
A responsive, knowledgeable work force, with clear expectations and responsibilities	...sustained professional growth, adaptability, and continuous improvement of work processes and performance.
A supportive, collaborative work environment	... risk-taking, fostering initiatives, creativity, flexibility, and personal responsibility.
Cooperation and synergy	...staff involvement, collaborative efforts, and mutual respect.
Continually reassessing our mission, vision, and values	...involving all staff, customers, and our community in the improvement process.
