

While Washington state spending overall has increased by $8.6 billion since 2001-03 (including an increase of $462 million for higher education) Washington’s public baccalaureate institutions have seen a decrease in state funding.

