

MEETING THE
GLOBAL CHALLENGE

The Future of the State of Washington and the University of Washington

WHAT $4,000 BUYS FOR STUDENTS

EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE AT THE UW

- Increased financial aid
- Smaller class sizes
- Top-notch teaching faculty
- Better educational technology
- Better facilities for learning and living
- Availability of high-demand majors
- More student access to faculty
- Opportunities outside the classroom
(research, international experience, professional education)
- Better advising, mentoring, and career planning
- Increased enrollments

OPPORTUNITIES IN LIFE

- Education in high-demand fields
- Good jobs and good wages
- High quality of life
- Home-grown leadership
- Entrepreneurial opportunities

WHAT $4,000 RETURNS TO THE STATE

- Increased bachelor's degrees (with emphasis on high-demand fields)
- Improved time to degree
- Improved student retention
- Improved quality of academic programs
- Increased access for low-income students
- Improved student workforce preparation
- Increased tax base
- Increased family economic security
- Sustained quality of research programs

UW ACCOUNTABILITY AND IMPROVED PERFORMANCE

- Shorter time to degree
- Better retention
- More financial aid
- More bachelors degrees in high-demand fields

For more information, contact the UW Office of State Relations at 206-543-7604.