THE COLLEGE OF BUILT ENVIRONMENTS

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

with revisions adopted
25 April 2009
BACKGROUND

The College of Built Environments (CBE) was established as the College of Architecture and Urban Planning (CAUP) on 22 June 1957 by action of the Board of Regents of the University of Washington. Creation of the College recognizes a long-standing commitment by the University to professional education in design, planning, and construction that began early in the twentieth century.

The College of Built Environments is composed of four departments: Architecture, Construction Management, Landscape Architecture, and Urban Design & Planning.

The Bylaws of the College of Built Environments presented here are based in part on the first such College bylaws, adopted in 1984. Revised Bylaws were developed following discussions in the College Council in 2007 and were adopted by the faculty of the College at the all-College meeting on 17 November 2007; amendments approved by the faculty at that meeting are included in this final text. The Bylaws were approved by Dean Daniel Friedman on 26 November 2007.

The College faculty, at the all-College meeting on 25 April 2009, voted unanimously to change the name of the College as listed in these Bylaws to conform to the name change adopted by the University of Washington Regents in fall 2008 that took effect on 1 January 2009. The change of the College name in the Bylaws from College of Architecture and Urban Planning to College of Built Environments was approved by Dean Daniel Friedman on 25 April 2009 following the unanimous vote of the faculty.

The College Council shall provide governance for the faculty of the College. The Council shall be concerned with all domains of faculty authority and duties of the College faculty and the professional and personnel issues affecting faculty. The College Council is directly accountable to the faculty as a whole, from which it is elected. The College Council may act on behalf of the College faculty and shall be accountable to the College faculty for its actions.

Section 2. Membership. The College Council shall be composed of members of the College Faculty elected from each of the four departments, and the Dean who shall serve as an ex officio member (and shall not have a vote). Faculty membership shall be proportional, determined by the number of full-time equivalent faculty in each department; there shall be one elected faculty member per fifteen (15) FTE faculty or fraction thereof exceeding one-half of 15; the minimum membership for each Department shall be one (1).

Only voting members of the faculty who hold the rank of Associate Professor or Professor shall be eligible for election to the College Council. Members of the College Council shall be elected for three-year staggered terms following the procedures of Section 3, below. Administrative appointees such as Chairs and Associate Deans are not eligible for membership on the College Council.

Section 3. Election of Members. Each year, the appropriate number of members and an equal number of alternates shall be elected by the separate departmental faculties. Members who have served a three-year term cannot succeed themselves except when no other qualified faculty person is available. The College Council election shall take place early in Spring Quarter. Members shall serve beginning 15 September following their election.

All voting members of the Departments, as described in Article III, are eligible to vote in the election. Before each election, the Dean’s Office shall prepare a list of those faculty eligible to vote on the members of the College Council and shall indicate on that list those who are eligible to serve on the College Council. Departments shall elect one member and one alternate from the list and notify the College Council Chair and the Dean’s Office.

Section 4. Council Officers. There shall be two College Council officers, a Chair and a Chair-elect. The Chair-elect shall be elected by the members of the College Council and shall serve a term of one year. The following year, the Chair-elect will serve as Chair of the College Council. The Chair and Chair-elect must be members of different Departments of the College.

Section 5. Procedures and Meetings. Subject to the provisions of the University Handbook and these Bylaws, the College Council shall determine its own procedures, including appointment of subcommittees as appropriate. The presiding officer at College Council meetings shall be the College Council Chair. Meetings of the College Council may be called at the request of the Council Chair, the Dean, or by a request of a majority of members. The Council may set its own agenda by majority vote. The Council may meet in executive session when addressing personnel matters or any other matter of a sensitive nature. Voting on any item of business in any meeting of the Council shall be by secret ballot if required by any College Council member. For final approval, an affirmative vote from more than one-half of the voting membership of the Council is required.

Section 6. Written Records. The Chair shall be responsible for preparing a written summary of all College Council proceedings including votes and formal recommendations of the Council which shall be part of the permanent record of the College and shall be available (subject to University Handbook provisions and University regulations regarding personnel matters) upon request to any member of the College.

Section 7. Committees formed by the College Council. To advise the College Council in the exercise of its responsibilities, the College Council shall appoint standing and/or ad hoc committees as required to address appropriate issues such as curriculum and academic standards, faculty affairs, and student life. Chairs of these committees shall be members of the College Council but their other faculty members may be drawn from the voting members of the College. Committees formed by the College Council (except those dealing with personnel matters) may include student members.

Section 8. Vacancy in Office. A vacancy in either elected College Council membership or appointed committee membership can occur through such processes as resignation, termination of employment, or failure to attend meetings of any committee without advanced notification. If a vacancy should occur during the term of any office, the College Council shall be empowered either to appoint a replacement to complete the unexpired term or to provide for an election to a new term of office for that position.

ARTICLE VI. COMMITTEES OF THE COLLEGE

The Dean and/or the College faculty may establish standing or special committees, prescribe their powers and duties, and appoint their members.

Standing committees include the following:

Section 1. College Executive Committee

A. Duties and Responsibilities. The Executive Committee shall be advisory to the Dean in accordance with the policies established by the governing body of the College. 2. Those persons with joint appointments in two or more College units must declare before each election from which unit they wish to stand for election.
3. Nominations of student members shall be made at the beginning of Autumn Quarter. Terms of student members shall be for one year; reappointment is allowed.
4. The position of any voting member of a committee who misses three successive meetings without excuse may be declared vacant by the Chair of the committee and the Dean so notified.
5. Committee vacancies shall be filled either by election or appointment, depending on the terms of membership of the committee.

Section 2. College Visiting Committee. The Dean of the College, at his discretion, may choose to create a Visiting Committee for the College.

The College Visiting Committee shall advise the Dean on the effectiveness of College educational and research programs, on future directions, and on public service and outreach activities. The Visiting Committee shall aid the Dean and the College in furthering College and University concerns. The Visiting Committee may participate in fund-raising and other financial initiatives of the College.

Membership of the Visiting Committee shall be drawn from the community outside the University and in such a way that there is a reasonable balance of College-wide interests, and representations of the primary professional communities addressed by the College departments.

Should the Dean activate the Visiting Committee, he shall periodically inform the College Council regarding the Committee’s membership and activities.

Section 2. Notification of College Council. Although research centers are primarily focused on research, research centers may serve as sites of instruction, and will typically involve faculty activities. Therefore, the Dean shall notify the College Council when a research center is to be created and shall provide to the College Council an outline of the Center’s proposed participants, responsibilities, funding sources, and similar information. The Dean shall also notify the Council every time there is a change in the mission, status, or director of a center.

Section 3. Review. In accordance with policies of the Office of Research, each college center shall be reviewed no less often than once every ten years. The Dean shall notify the College Council when a review is to be conducted and shall provide to the College Council a summary of the results of such reviews insofar as they intersect with those college activities (instruction, faculty life, etc.) which are subject to shared governance under the University Handbook and these Bylaws governing Organization and Procedure.

ARTICLE VIII. DELEGATION OF POWER TO DEPARTMENT FACULTIES

Section 1. Departments of the College. The College of Built Environments is divided into four departments: Department of Architecture, Department of Construction Management, Department of Landscape Architecture, and Department of Urban Design & Planning.
