The University Kayak Club at the UW is a registered student organization helping members pursue the sports of kayaking and canoeing. The Kayak Club is oriented towards whitewater and ocean kayaking. Those new to the sport are encouraged to join and people of all skill levels are welcome. The club provides opportunities for members to enjoy different paddling styles and adventures. There are over 15 white water runs within a 90 minute drive from Seattle. Many nearby islands, especially the San Juan Islands, provide an abundance of areas for sea kayakers to explore.
