II. ANNOUNCEMENTS

University of Washington Ranked #2 in 2016 Academic Ranking of World Universities. In the 2016 Academic Ranking of World Universities for clinical medicine and pharmacy, the UW has moved up to No. 2 in the world (from No. 3 in 2015) and is now second to only Harvard University. The ARWU evaluates more than 1,200 universities and is recognized for basing its rankings on objective indicators, such as the number of alumni and staff winning Nobel Prizes, highly cited researchers, and publications in top medical journals. “This prestigious ranking is a tribute to the outstanding work and global impact of our faculty and staff at UW Medicine,” said Dr. Paul Ramsey, chief executive officer. “From basic science research into the mechanisms of disease, to clinical breakthroughs that lead to better treatments and cures, we are successfully executing on our mission to improve the health of the public.” UW Medicine faculty and staff also contribute to a No. 6 ranking in Life and Agriculture Sciences, which includes the fields of molecular biology and genetics, immunology and neurosciences. In its overall rankings, ARWU lists the UW as No. 15 in the world. For more information, see Academic Ranking of World Universities in Clinical Medicine and Pharmacy - 2016

Recruiting Participants for Research Studies? Check Out the New Recruitment Toolkit. A new toolkit is available to assist research teams in recruiting participants for research studies. The toolkit includes step-by-step instructions for creating recruitment flyers, posting a study on Seattle Children’s website, sharing announcements in iKnow and InHouse, advertising on social media, radio and print, and more. Check out the new toolkit on the IRB website. If you have any questions please contact joy.jernigan@seattlechildrens.org.
