I. ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dr. Leslie Walker-Harding has been named Chair of the UW Department of Pediatrics and Seattle Children’s Chief Academic Officer. She will assume her new position on February 15, 2019.

A faculty member left this light blue thermos at the Department Faculty Meeting on Tuesday, October 16th. If this cup belongs to you, please email or call Christina Woodruff (Christina.woodruff@seattlechildrens.org or 206-987-2364).

II. IMPORTANT DATES

Thursday, November 1: Grand Rounds, 8-9AM in Wright Auditorium at Seattle Children’s Hospital. “Mechanical Circulatory Support for Children: Options, Outcomes, and What’s on the Way,” presented by Dr. Joshua Friedland-Little, Assistant Professor, Pediatrics, UW; Cardiology/Transplantation, Seattle Children’s. Contact kathie.kohorn@seattlechildrens.org.

Thursday, November 1: Mid-Career Faculty: You Got Promoted to Associate Professor – Now What? 8AM-12PM in the Health Sciences Building, Room RR-401. This workshop is geared to mid-career faculty who are interested in career advancement, and promotion to Professor. There is practical advice about making five- and ten-year plans and developing leadership skills and tips from experienced senior faculty. Speakers will include Robb Glenny, MD, and Genevieve Neal-Perry, MD PhD. Sign up here.

Friday, November 2: Genome Sciences Symposium. 9AM-4PM in Foege Auditorium. 7-8PM in Kane Hall. This year, the focus of the symposium is precision medicine, and we are very excited to have a fantastic slate of speakers. Our keynote address will be given by Dr. Eric Dishman, leader of the National Institutes of Health All of Us program. The program will involve sequencing the genomes of one million people living in the United States, and the UW has been named one of the three centers that will accomplish this exciting work. You can find more information here.

Wednesday, October 3: Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery Grand Rounds. 6-7PM in Turner Auditorium (D-209), UW Health Sciences Building. “Is Orthognathic Surgery Efficient?” presented Dr. Timothy Turvey, Professor and Chair, Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, University of North Carolina – Chapel Hill. Please RSVP. Light meal served at 5:30PM.
Thursday, November 22: Department of Pediatrics Administrative Offices Closed in observance of the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

III. FACULTY NEWS
