Nature of Organization

We are doing research studying the evolution and development of Marine Invertebrates. We are interested in molecular control of developmental processes and how they change evolutionarily.

Duties and Responsibilities

Take care of lab autoclaving, ordering, and care of invertebrates. Molecular techniques are PCR, running gels, subcloning and sequencing. Preparing manuscripts and putting together figures for publication. Web site maintenance.

Minimum Qualifications

Familiarity with marine invertebrates, growing algae, and animal maintenance.

Educational Benefits

Learn all about proofreading sequences, DNA and RNA!
