WE NOW HAVE TWO PROGRAMS UNDERGRADUATES ARE ELIGIBLE TO APPLY TO:

Students MAY apply for both programs at the same time.

Bachelor of Arts in Architectural Design
Bachelor of Arts in Architecture

Students MUST submit a separate application for both.
Bachelor of Arts in Architectural Design
(formerly the Bachelor of Arts in Architectural Studies)

The Bachelor of Arts in Architectural Design is a design studio-based pre-professional degree that prepares candidates for admission with advanced standing to professional architecture graduate programs. It is also good preparation for other roles in society that benefit from an understanding of and exposure to architectural design and problem solving such as government, development, management, planning, marketing, technology, art, graphic design, and digital arts.
NEIGHBORHOOD DESIGN-BUILD STUDIO

The Howard S. Wright Neighborhood Design/Build Studio is an award-winning studio offered by the Department of Architecture at the University of Washington where students design and build small community projects for Seattle-area nonprofit groups. Architecture graduates and undergraduates in their final year gain experience with clients, public agencies, material and assembly details, and hands-on construction while working to benefit people in the greater community.
The approach to the studio is based on the “studio furniture” movement in the United States, where individuals with small shops design and build one-of-a-kind or limited production furniture pieces. In this way, the furniture that is designed is intimately associated with the tools and processes that are available in the CBE metal and wood shops, giving direction as well as setting constraints for the project. The objective is to understand designing and making as inter-dependent processes.
Bachelor of Arts in Architecture

The new Bachelor of Arts in Architecture is a four-year, undergraduate degree program in which students explore the many factors that shape our built environment. The new major in Architecture curriculum is based on small seminar-style classes and encourages students to build their coursework around three main areas of concentration:

+ History and Theory
+ Sustainable Technologies
+ Materials and Making/Fabrication

In the final year of the Architecture major, students work toward their final capstone research project due in the Spring.

Course Requirements for Application to the UW Architectural Design Major

• *71 credits in general education coursework: can be satisfied at a Washington State Community College

• *19- credits of Architecture pre-requisite coursework (ARCH 350, 351, 352 and 200, plus 201 (for ARCH Design) and 231 (for Architecture): must be taken at UW
APPLICATION MATERIALS

Students applying to BOTH programs will submit TWO complete & separate applications. The resume and transcripts will be identical, but the application form and essay questions are different.

Portfolios of creative work are only required for the Architectural Design degree.

APPLICATIONS WILL INCLUDE:

1. Application form (there are different forms for each degree)
2. Transcripts
   - UW transcript
   - Community College Transcripts
3. Personal Resume
4. Personal Essay
5. Portfolio of creative work (for Architectural Design ONLY)
Scenario: Transferring With an A.A. and 90+ Credits

• *Take part-time load at WA State Community College.
• *Apply to take Architecture pre-requisites at UW on a standby enrollment, space available basis. Register as a non-matriculated student through UW Educational Outreach’s Non-Degree Enrollment program:
• *Complete A.A. and Architecture pre-requisites simultaneously.
• *Works best if attending a nearby Washington State Community College.
• *Coordinate with WSCC and UW advisers and Financial Aid offices.
Transferring With an A.A. and 90+ Credits: Timeline Scenario

• *Apply to take Autumn Quarter Architecture 350 and 200 pre-requisites at UW on a standby enrollment, space available basis.
• *Apply to take Winter Quarter Architecture 351 and 201 pre-requisite at UW on a standby enrollment, space available basis.
• *Apply to the UW Office of Admissions for Transfer Admission for following Autumn Quarter. Deadline February ~15.
• *Apply to the Department of Architecture’s Architectural Design or Architecture Majors with design portfolio and application material. Deadline first day of UW Spring Quarter.
Non Matriculated Enrollment: Who Is Eligible To Register?

Almost Anyone!
• Transfer Students
• Running Start Students (Advanced High School Study)
• International Transfer students studying in the United States with a valid F-1 visa.
A word about...Running Start Students
“Advanced Study High School Program”

Completed at least the ninth grade and have a 3.3 or better high school grade-point average.

Must provide the following documentation with registration forms:
1) a written recommendation from their high school counselor or principal
2) parental or guardian consent and a statement of responsibility for the actions and travel arrangements of the individual

3) High school students who wish to take credit courses should submit their high school transcript.

Running Start students should also submit unofficial copies of their WA State Community College transcript.

NOTE: Students under the age of 16 must first contact UW Office of Admissions to discuss enrollment as a Non-Matriculated student.
Benefits

• Jump start earning prerequisite course work.
• Satisfy UW Admission requirements (CADR).
• Earn graduation requirements towards a future UW degree or investigate your interest in a specific major/field of study.
• Experience the teaching and learning community at UW Seattle.

Grades earned in UW academic credit course work are included in the admission review by UW Office of Admissions if the student officially applies for admission to the university.

Access to Student Services:
• UW libraries
• campus computer labs
• A UW email account
• UPASS (Optional.)

Enrollment and status (open/closed) were accurate when this page was created 2015 but may have changed since then. For current enrollment and status summary (UW NetID required.)
ARCH 150 Appreciation of Architecture I (2/3) VLPA
Historical survey of the architecture of Western civilization. For nonmajors.
View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 150

ARCH 151 Appreciation of Architecture II (2/3) VLPA
Historical survey of the architecture of Western civilization. For nonmajors.
View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 151

ARCH 200 Architectural Design and Representation I (5) VLPA
Introduces architectural representation as fundamental medium for investigation, analysis, and documentation of objects, processes, and architectural space. Consists of a series of investigative projects that introduce orthographic projection, axonometric, and perspective drawing, through which students develop comprehensive skills in hand-drawing and digital media. Offered: A. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 200

ARCH 201 Architectural Design and Representation II (5) VLPA
Introduces the fundamentals of architectural design. Consists of a series of investigative projects that introduce principles of architectural design as well as concepts and skills in architectural and digital representation. Prerequisite: ARCH 200. Offered: W. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 201

ARCH 231 Making and Craft (5) VLPA
Introduces the cultures and practical realities of “making” through study of the nature of tools, techniques, and the development of built culture over time. Examines the relationships of “making” to available materials, sources of energy and the development of infrastructure. Also covers qualities and characteristics of materials. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 231

ARCH 251 World Architecture Non-Western Cultures (5) VLPA/1&S Prerequisite
Introduction to historical and contemporary built environments of non-Judeo-Christian civilizations, primarily Hindu, Buddhist, Islamic, and Meso-American, as manifestations of cultural history and as responses to environmental determinants. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 251

ARCH 300 Introduction to Architectural Design I (6)
Studio problems to develop awareness, knowledge, and basic skills needed in the synthesis of building form. Prerequisite: ARCH 201. Offered: A. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 300

ARCH 301 Introduction to Architectural Design II (6)
Studio problems to develop awareness, knowledge, and basic skills needed in the synthesis of building form. Prerequisite: ARCH 300. Offered: W. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 301

ARCH 302 Introduction to Architectural Design III (6)
Studio problems to develop awareness, knowledge, and basic skills needed in the synthesis of building form. Prerequisite: ARCH 301. Offered: Sp. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 302

ARCH 303 Introduction to Design Studio I (6)
Studio problems to develop initial awareness, knowledge, and basic skills needed in synthesis of building form and integrative aspects of architectural design with emphasis on the dwelling place. Limited to students entering the graduate program in architecture with baccalaureate degrees in other fields. Offered: A. View course details in MyPlan: ARCH 303

ARCH 304 Introduction to Design Studio II (6)
Studio problems to develop initial awareness, knowledge, and basic skills needed in synthesis of building form and integrative aspects of architectural design with emphasis on the dwelling place.
