UW Interim President Phyliss Wise graciously welcomed UWFA members and guests to the Annual Holiday Tea at the President’s house in Madison Park. Dr. Wise thanked the members and their spouses for all their contributions to the university community and for helping to make the University of Washington the great university that it is. Carol Hol introduced Dr. Wise in lieu of UWFA President Gail Butterfield, who could not attend. Dr. Wise took the opportunity to talk to the students from FIUTS, which is the traditional beneficiary of donations to the silver basket at the Tea.

Among her many accomplishments, Dr. Wise is the mother of two grown children, a son in D.C. and a daughter in Barcelona.

In Memoriam

Barbara Whittemore
Long time member Barbara Whittemore passed away on October 24, 2010. Born in Milton, MA, Barbara graduated from Garfield High School and the UW where she majored in drama. She married Whit in 1941, moved east with him, and acted in summer stock theater productions. In 1964 Whit accepted a position at UW and Barbara moved back to Seattle with her family. Barbara was active with Civic Light Opera and was devoted to her family.

Jim Gunderson
Jim Gunderson, husband of current board member Judy Gunderson, died on December 15, 2010. Jim graduated from Enumclaw High School, Stetson University, and graduated with a PhD from University of Iowa. He served in the Coast Guard and began his career in computers with IBM in 1960 at Cape Canaveral. In 1997 he retired from Esterline Corporation as Director of Management Information Systems. He was a member of the UWFA and Faith Lutheran Church, Seattle.

Joy Worcester
Former UWFA president Joy Worcester passed away on December 2, 2010. Joy was born in Winside, Nebraska, and graduated from the University of Nebraska with a degree in nutrition. Joy married Dean in 1941 and moved to Seattle when Dean became a professor of Economics at UW. With five children still at home, Joy pursued a teaching career and taught at Helen Bush and at Seward Elementary School. Upon retirement, she became an active and cherished participant in community activities.

Garbo Talks (1984)
Directed by Sidney Lumet
The son of a woman dying of a brain tumor tries to fulfill his mother's last wish - to meet Greta Garbo. The comedy-drama starring Anne Bancroft reflected the continuing popular obsession with the star. Until the end of her life, Garbo-watching became a sport among the paparazzi and the media, but she remained elusive. She died in 1990 at the age of 84.

A New Leaf (1971)
Directed and Written by Elaine May
Now considered a cult classic, A New Leaf stars Walter Matthau as a spoiled man who has run through his inheritance and is unequipped to provide for himself. He devises a plan to obtain money the old-fashioned way—he can marry it.

Elaine May, who also wrote and directed the film, is the clumsy, painfully shy heiress he marries.

Wildflowers and Polar Bears:
Mid-summer in Franz Josef Land
By Julie Lutz
Located about 600 miles from the geographic North Pole, the islands and waters of Franz Josef Land are host to seals, walruses, whales and polar bears as well as myriad species of birds. Julie Lutz and George Wallerstein traveled by icebreaker across the Barents Sea to reach these islands of the Russian archipelago. Their adventures include walking across pack ice, being chased in a Zodiac by female walruses, and dancing under the arctic midnight sun.

Exploring Health Issues in a Developing Nation: India
By Karen Dee and Yingxuan Law
Karen Dee and Yingxuan Law will discuss their experiences in the practice of mental health and community health in India. They will talk about their experiences of how health care in India is administered in two specific settings, a charity-based organization and a private organization; and how care is administered based on ability to pay.

They will share their insights as outsiders on how culture and health interact in health care settings. They will talk about their responses to immersion in the Indian culture and share stories and photographs of both school and free time related experiences.

Interest Group Chairs Luncheon

Interest Group Chair Barbara Holmes is planning a lunch for the Chairs of the Interest Group this quarter. Chairs are invited to join the Board for the regular monthly meeting followed by a potluck lunch. This provides an opportunity for the Chairs, often the most active members of UWFA, to share their thoughts and ideas about the organization.

Playgroup Meets Sans Enfants

Though the children are long gone, members of the UWFA playgroup still gather several times a year. The UWFA playgroup was first organized in the late 1980’s by Linda Rhines, a newcomer who had been active in a similar playgroup of faculty wives at another university. The playgroup was an excellent opportunity for mothers and their children to meet for play dates, form friendships, and exchange information and stories.

Upcoming Dinner Lecture March 9

“Living Long, Living Well: Keys to a Healthy Brain “ By Eric Larson

A general internist, Dr. Larson has pursued an array of research, ranging from clinical interests such as Alzheimer's disease and genomics to health services research involving technology assessment, cost-effectiveness analysis, and quality improvement. His research on aging includes the Adult Changes in Thought study.
