The Forgotten World War II Story of Mexican Workers in the U.S. West

Erasmo Bojorges

July 2016
“[T]his is a well-researched, richly detailed history of trout and trout fishing in the Mountain West that, as the author promises, ‘overturns the biggest fish story ever told.’”—Wall Street Journal

248 PP., 34 ILLUS., 3 MAPS
$35.00 HARDCOVER, 9780295995574

Combining disaster, mining, railroad, and ski histories with the theme of severe winter weather, it provides a new and fascinating perspective on the settlement of the Mountain West. “This riveting tale is part history, part outdoor narrative, and part legal thriller.”—Wilderness & Environmental Medicine

192 PP., 20 ILLUS.
$25.00 PAPERBACK, 9780295995403

“This brilliant volume is incisive, intellectually generative, and analytically rigorous. The Rising Tide of Color reframes our understanding of race and social movements by centering on the Pacific Coast.”—Diane Fujino, University of California, Santa Barbara

320 PP., 13 ILLUS.
$30.00 PAPERBACK, 9780295995427

“A measure of any book is whether it makes you think beyond its pages, and Bike Battles did just that for me... It allowed me to see the last 150 years of riding in America like a mosaic on the wall... The book ought to give today’s bicycle advocates a sense of their place in history and make them proud to continue the battle.”—Wall Street Journal

306 PP., 32 ILLUS.
$34.95 HARDCOVER, 9780295995427

“During this moment of #BlackLivesMatter, Emi- lye Raymond’s fascinating book is an illuminating reminder of that first generation of Black artists and entertainers to reflect contemporary social justice realities in their work.”—Mark Anthony Neal, author of Looking for Leroy: Illegible Black Masculinities

352 PP., 23 ILLUS.
