Recognition and Privileges Accorded Retired Faculty of the University of Washington

In addition to those privileges accorded all UW retirees, retired faculty members of the University of Washington:

- may purchase computer-related products at discounted prices at University Book Store if they are continuing to participate in research, teaching and public service on behalf of the University;

- may march in graduation and other formal ceremonies of the University; and

- may be appointed annually as ex officio members of Faculty Senate councils and subcommittees at the invitation of a Senate Council chairperson and on approval of the Senate Executive Committee.
