One of the world's most productive research universities, the University of Washington has ranked among the top 10 in the nation for federal funding for over 40 years. The UW's deep wellsprings of research funding, along with its world-class faculty — six UW faculty members have won Nobel Prizes for their research since 1989 — contribute to its international renown. Thousands of undergraduates, graduates every year, leaving a lasting impact in everything from microbiology, astrobiology and beyond.

HOW TO GET HERE

The UW campus in Seattle is four miles north of downtown Seattle. Seattle and the UW are easily reached by car, bus, plane, train and ferry. Seattle is an international hub known for its innovative history, from rock bands and tech startups to coffee and espresso. Seattle is a city of neighborhoods, featuring an array of cultural activities in and around the city. To see as much as possible at the UW, visit the campus website to plan your visit.

FROM I-5
South on I-5
Turn right on 15th Ave. NE
Turn left on NE Pacific St.
Montlake Bridge.
Take the Montlake Blvd. NE exit and cross the Montlake Bridge.
Continue north on I-5.

FROM THE EAST SIDE OF LAKE WASHINGTON (SR 520)

Using the Burke-Gilman Trail and other street routes.

BIKE OR WALK

Use the Burke-Gilman Trail and other street routes.

SEATTLE, OUR HOME

Seattle is a city of neighborhoods, featuring an array of cultural activities in and around the city. To see as much as possible at the UW, visit the campus website to plan your visit.

VISITORS GUIDE

University of Washington

BE BOUNDLESS

Innovative learning. Transformative research.&EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

The University of Washington is committed to providing increased access and opportunity to high-achieving students who have benefited from affirmative action programs designed to eliminate or reduce the effects of discrimination. We extend this commitment to all students seeking educational opportunities at UW. We encourage qualified students from all backgrounds, experiences, and abilities to apply for admission.

The University of Washington is committed to providing increased access and opportunity to high-achieving students who have benefited from affirmative action programs designed to eliminate or reduce the effects of discrimination. We extend this commitment to all students seeking educational opportunities at UW. We encourage qualified students from all backgrounds, experiences, and abilities to apply for admission.