Historical Atlas of Canada
Canadian History Illustrated with Original Maps
Dwight H. Park

This atlas will come as a rather pleasing surprise to those familiar with the various historical atlases published over the years by the National Archives of Canada. - Harvey W. Ross

- 2002. 368 pp., 41 color plates, 70 maps
- 0-7748-0396-7 Paper, $15.95
- 0-7748-0415-7 Paper, $19.95

Paul Kariya’s Great Nor-West
Diane Farrell and Shelagh Libert

Collected in the book are various essays and reminiscences of the history of the Great Nor-West. Paul Kariya was a key figure in the development of the region, and his story is told through the eyes of those who knew him. - Jeremy Wilson

- 2002. 408 pp., 60 illus.
- 0-7748-0430-0 Cloth, $35.95

Hapa Wolf: Fighting the Establishment
Susan Starbuck

From twenty years of Liz’s conversations with Seattle’s original hip hop artist Hapa Wolf, author Susan Starbuck has fashioned both an engaging prose and an outstanding selection of engaging photographs that are sure to entertain and educate. - Ken S. Coates

- 2002. 372 pp., 14 illus., map, notes, bibliog., index
- 0-7748-0669-9 Paper, $29.95

Righting the Wrong: Evil and Integrity in the Indian Peace Treaties
Ken S. Coates

In this informative and entertaining collection of essays, Coates addresses the question of how the Indian treaties of the late 19th century were implemented and how they have affected our understanding of the inter-tribal relationship in Canada. - Eric W. Sager

- 1996. 256 pp., illus., maps, drawings
- 0-7748-0655-9 Paper, $24.95

Robert Brown and the Vancouver Island Exploring Expedition
John Graham, ed.

This is an important book for anyone interested in the history of the Hudson’s Bay Company, as well as those interested in the history of the Pacific Northwest. - B. C. Historical News

- 0-7748-0705-5 Paper, $24.95

Tell Us Where You’ve Seen It
Gary McNeely

This is the first book to deal in detail with the distribution and the distributional status of the Hudson’s Bay Company’s ships before and during the 18th century. - B. C. Historical News

- 0-7748-0648-4 Paper, $24.95

An Introduction to the Aidan Library of Early Christian Literature
John J. Collins

This is the first book to introduce the Aidan Library of Early Christian Literature, which contains a vast collection of Early Christian literature. - M. J. O’Connell

- 0-7748-0602-0 Paper, $29.95

William Henry’s Island Exploring Expedition from the Columbia 1822-44
George M. Dawson

This is the first full-length study to explore the life and work of William Henry, a key figure in the history of the Pacific Northwest. - B. C. Historical News

- 1988. 231 pp., illus.
- 0-7748-0441-6 Paper, $15.95

Order Toll-Free: 1-800-441-4115  www.washington.edu/uwpress

2

University of Washington Press

A Symbol of Wilderness
EcoPark and the American Conservation Movement
Andrew M. T. Harvey
Harvey argues that the major rift between conservationists and developers after World War II, the second great battle to preserve the building of EcoPark Dam on the Green River in northeastern Colorado. A sequel to his 1974 study that made the Roosevelt movement a significant force in 20th-century environmental history. Supports, with new data, the central focus of the book: the political and environmental battles over the EcoPark Dam.

Mountain Fever
Haitian Compadros in Rural Louisiana
Audrey D. Kofman
Kofman explores the lives of the Black men who formed comadros (companion groups) to practice a Haitian ritual to cure illnesses. Kofman's in-depth ethnography provides an intriguing window into the Haitian communities of rural Louisiana.

The Making of an Agricultural Landscape
A Historical Geography, 1805-1910
Kevin Leonard
“An eye-opening, sophisticated, and refreshingly original study of the development of agriculture in the Northwest and the impact of the forest on the rural economy of the region.” – Oregon State University

Archaeology, History, and Environment
A Native American Case Study
Samuel M. Haag
Haag examines the relationship between human and environmental changes in the central desert of the Southwest over the last 3,000 years. He argues that the historical events that shaped the modern Navajo-Guatemalan conflict over land use were prefigured in the native past.

The Origins of Inequality
Social Organization and the Development of Inequality in the Amazonian Forest
Wayne Culbertson
Culbertson argues that the origins of inequality in the Amazon are not a result of contact with outside cultures, but of local factors such as band composition, geography, and subsistence strategies.

Bicycle Ears
The Motorcycle in American Culture
Steven Hahn
Hahn explores the cultural significance of the motorcycle in America, using it as a lens through which to view the broader social and cultural changes that occurred in the 20th century.

The Making of an Agricultural Landscape
A Historical Geography, 1805-1910
Kevin Leonard
“An eye-opening, sophisticated, and refreshingly original study of the development of agriculture in the Northwest and the impact of the forest on the rural economy of the region.” – Oregon State University

Archaeology, History, and Environment
A Native American Case Study
Samuel M. Haag
Haag examines the relationship between human and environmental changes in the central desert of the Southwest over the last 3,000 years. He argues that the historical events that shaped the modern Navajo-Guatemalan conflict over land use were prefigured in the native past.

The Origins of Inequality
Social Organization and the Development of Inequality in the Amazonian Forest
Wayne Culbertson
Culbertson argues that the origins of inequality in the Amazon are not a result of contact with outside cultures, but of local factors such as band composition, geography, and subsistence strategies.

Bicycle Ears
The Motorcycle in American Culture
Steven Hahn
Hahn explores the cultural significance of the motorcycle in America, using it as a lens through which to view the broader social and cultural changes that occurred in the 20th century.

The Making of an Agricultural Landscape
A Historical Geography, 1805-1910
Kevin Leonard
“An eye-opening, sophisticated, and refreshingly original study of the development of agriculture in the Northwest and the impact of the forest on the rural economy of the region.” – Oregon State University

Archaeology, History, and Environment
A Native American Case Study
Samuel M. Haag
Haag examines the relationship between human and environmental changes in the central desert of the Southwest over the last 3,000 years. He argues that the historical events that shaped the modern Navajo-Guatemalan conflict over land use were prefigured in the native past.

The Origins of Inequality
Social Organization and the Development of Inequality in the Amazonian Forest
Wayne Culbertson
Culbertson argues that the origins of inequality in the Amazon are not a result of contact with outside cultures, but of local factors such as band composition, geography, and subsistence strategies.

Bicycle Ears
The Motorcycle in American Culture
Steven Hahn
Hahn explores the cultural significance of the motorcycle in America, using it as a lens through which to view the broader social and cultural changes that occurred in the 20th century.

The Making of an Agricultural Landscape
A Historical Geography, 1805-1910
Kevin Leonard
“An eye-opening, sophisticated, and refreshingly original study of the development of agriculture in the Northwest and the impact of the forest on the rural economy of the region.” – Oregon State University

Archaeology, History, and Environment
A Native American Case Study
Samuel M. Haag
Haag examines the relationship between human and environmental changes in the central desert of the Southwest over the last 3,000 years. He argues that the historical events that shaped the modern Navajo-Guatemalan conflict over land use were prefigured in the native past.

The Origins of Inequality
Social Organization and the Development of Inequality in the Amazonian Forest
Wayne Culbertson
Culbertson argues that the origins of inequality in the Amazon are not a result of contact with outside cultures, but of local factors such as band composition, geography, and subsistence strategies.

Bicycle Ears
The Motorcycle in American Culture
Steven Hahn
Hahn explores the cultural significance of the motorcycle in America, using it as a lens through which to view the broader social and cultural changes that occurred in the 20th century.

The Making of an Agricultural Landscape
A Historical Geography, 1805-1910
Kevin Leonard
“An eye-opening, sophisticated, and refreshingly original study of the development of agriculture in the Northwest and the impact of the forest on the rural economy of the region.” – Oregon State University

Archaeology, History, and Environment
A Native American Case Study
Samuel M. Haag
Haag examines the relationship between human and environmental changes in the central desert of the Southwest over the last 3,000 years. He argues that the historical events that shaped the modern Navajo-Guatemalan conflict over land use were prefigured in the native past.

The Origins of Inequality
Social Organization and the Development of Inequality in the Amazonian Forest
Wayne Culbertson
Culbertson argues that the origins of inequality in the Amazon are not a result of contact with outside cultures, but of local factors such as band composition, geography, and subsistence strategies.

Bicycle Ears
The Motorcycle in American Culture
Steven Hahn
Hahn explores the cultural significance of the motorcycle in America, using it as a lens through which to view the broader social and cultural changes that occurred in the 20th century.
Fire on the Rim: A Firefighter's Diaries from the Grand Canyon
Stephen J.fname{return}y

Dedicated to Dale H. Janeck and John R. Janeck.

The book describes the life and work of one of the Grand Canyon's finest firefighters, Dale H. Janeck. Janeck was a long-time employee of the National Park Service and a member of the Grand Canyon Fire Management Team. The book provides a unique perspective on the challenges and rewards of working as a firefighter in one of the world's most iconic natural landscapes.

The book is divided into two sections: the first half describes Janeck's life and career, while the second half consists of his diaries from the Grand Canyon. The diaries provide a fascinating insight into the day-to-day life of a firefighter in the wilderness, as well as the challenges and dangers of wildland firefighting.

The book is a tribute to Dale H. Janeck's dedication to his chosen profession and his commitment to protecting the natural resources of the Grand Canyon. It is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the history of firefighting or the natural history of the Grand Canyon.
Kirtland Cutter
Architect in the Land of Promise
Henry D. G. Rydman
In the years of the 20th century,Seattle, Washington, emerged as a center for the quality of its architecture. Mr. Cutter was a key in Kirtland Cutter for his fine architectural house and genius for design. Cutter's remarkable career provides a fascinating study of the eclectic form of architecture that was an inevitable response to rich regional and historical influence at the time.

Land in the American West
Private Claims and the Common Good
Volume 2
Edited by William G. Robbins and James C. Pizzi
The essays in this volume deal with complex problematic issues and important questions regarding the legal status of land from the individual perspective - the consequences of the settlement.

The Last Wilderness
Nootka Sound in 1792
José Mariano Moziño
An Account of Nootka Sound in 1792 by the Spanish navigator Ignacio María de la Rúa del Castillo, who explored the coast of the Pacific Northwest. This book provides a fascinating look at the era's exploration and discovery.

Metamemory
Integrating Cognitive and Social Psychology
Barbara J. Tversky
This book explores the concept of memory and how it integrates with cognitive and social psychology.

Morality and the Social Order
The Shape of Island County, Washington
Dale D. Goble
The book examines the social order and its relationship to the development of the county.

Mountains of the Mind
Culture and Human Experience
James E. Nye
This book delves into the complex interplay between culture and human experience.

Myth and the Modern Image
The Shaping of Island County, Washington
Land, Labor, and Law
Historic Preservation and the Common Good

The Last Best Place
The Last Wilderness
Kirtland Cutter
A McLellan Book
This book showcases the Last Best Place, a unique and diverse landscape in the American West.

Native Americans
The Shaping of Island County, Washington
William Kittredge
Kirtland Cutter
This book offers a comprehensive examination of the history and society of the Last Best Place.

Montana
A History of Two Centuries
Kevin Egan
This book provides an in-depth look at the history of Montana over two centuries.

Northwest Passage
The Great Columbia River
Dr. M. J. Adams
"An engaging account of a white hunter and explorer's journey through the Northwest Passage, Indian right, resource economics that should matter to speak over the country." - New York Times Book Review

The Last Wilderness
Nootka Sound in 1792
José Mariano Moziño
An Account of Nootka Sound in 1792 by the Spanish navigator Ignacio María de la Rúa del Castillo, who explored the coast of the Pacific Northwest. This book provides a fascinating look at the era's exploration and discovery.

The Last Wilderness
Nootka Sound in 1792
José Mariano Moziño
An Account of Nootka Sound in 1792 by the Spanish navigator Ignacio María de la Rúa del Castillo, who explored the coast of the Pacific Northwest. This book provides a fascinating look at the era's exploration and discovery.