

Davis Management Group – Eric Davis

PHILOSOPHY STATEMENT

I enter every consulting situation with a can-do attitude. I truly believe that a positive solution to any situation can be uncovered if we simply keep our minds open to the possibilities.

In small group and one-on-one situations, I strive to listen effectively before posing the key questions necessary for us to identify realistic solutions and an action plan to reach desired goals.

Facilitated workshops and seminars are always learner-centered and feature creative activities, thought-provoking analogies, experiential exercises, and multimedia support. These sessions are purposely designed to be interactive and engaging to participants.
