Diversity Blueprint

INFORMATION

BACKGROUND

The University of Washington’s Diversity Blueprint 2017-2021 will be presented to the Board. The University of Washington’s Diversity Blueprint articulates the tri-campus community’s aspirations for becoming a truly inclusive and equitable environment for learning, research, service, and outreach.

The Diversity Blueprint begins with the University of Washington’s Diversity Council, a body composed of faculty, staff, and students from across all academic and administrative units, which is charged with advising the Vice President of Minority Affairs and Diversity and Chief Diversity Officer on campus diversity issues. For the period 2010-2014, the first Diversity Blueprint established six broad goals for the UW:

1) Provide leadership and communicate commitment to diversity;
2) Attract, retain, and graduate a diverse and excellent student body;
3) Provide rich learning experiences and prepare students for global citizenship;
4) Attract and retain a diverse faculty and staff;
5) Encourage and support diversity research; and
6) Create and sustain a welcoming climate for diversity.

Specific metrics and specific targets were developed to assess progress for each goal area. Relevant data were collected in 2013 and 2014 and made available through a Goal Attainment Dashboard prepared by the Office of Educational Assessment (see: http://www.washington.edu/diversity/files/2015/02/Diversity-Blueprint.pdf.)

Although a number of the 2010-2014 Blueprint goals were attained or even exceeded, others require additional attention. There is room for continued improvement in the areas of student, faculty, and staff diversity, for instance, as well as in diversity research, campus climate, and diversity leadership. The President’s Race and Equity Initiative is one example of the University’s renewed response to these areas. The Initiative seeks new ways to support and sustain Diversity at the UW, centers on creating an inclusive experience for students, faculty, and staff, and directly addresses issues of institutional bias and structural racism. This initiative is one of several the Diversity Council considered while developing a new Diversity Blueprint to guide the UW’s efforts for the period 2017-2021.

To effectively respond to ongoing needs as well as to enhance progress already made, and in order to reflect current concerns of the University community, the Diversity Council has produced a new Diversity Blueprint for 2017-2021 organized around these six goals:

1) Cultivate an inclusive campus climate;
2) Attract, retain, and graduate a diverse and excellent student body;
3) Attract and retain a diverse faculty;
4) Attract and retain a diverse staff;
5) Assess tri-campus diversity needs; and
6) Improve accountability and transparency

The previous Blueprint fostered a number of student-related successes that the new Blueprint endeavors to build upon. For each goal, the Diversity Council has identified a number of strategic priorities and suggested action steps that are essential to progress.

Moving the University of Washington toward fulfilling the goals identified in the 2017-2021 Diversity Blueprint will require the combined efforts of administrative and academic units, as well as faculty, staff, and students, across our three campuses. The Office of Minority Affairs and Diversity, in collaboration with other diversity offices and programs across the UW, will offer assistance to units to formulate plans and identify resources for effective change.

Goal 1: Cultivate an Inclusive Campus Climate

The University must actively work to create and maintain learning, working, and living environments in which students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds feel they can thrive. The climate should be inclusive, equitable, and welcoming on all UW campuses.

Recommended Priorities and Suggested Action Steps

➢ Create a framework to address the University’s challenges by developing, administering, and assessing an inclusive campus climate survey
  - Create an inclusive campus climate survey committee to design or commission a survey that is able to identify relevant issues that may be present on campus.
  - Appoint the appropriate level of leadership to administer a campus-wide climate survey that is distributed to all undergraduate, graduate, and professional students, faculty, and staff.
  - Publish climate survey results to serve as a reference for prospective and current students, faculty, and staff.
  - Provide relevant climate survey results to faculty and staff who are responsible for specific initiatives and programs and urge them to modify their programs and initiatives to address shortcomings.
  - Establish an exit survey for students, faculty, and staff who leave the university to determine whether campus climate contributed to their decision.

➢ Acknowledge and address student issues regarding equity and social justice
  - Identify and publicize the work of the UW research centers where issues of equity and social justice are critically examined.
  - Hold regular, facilitated conversations with students to learn about their experiences with issues of equity, difference, and privilege across the university. Create feasible action items to rectify the most glaring issues.
  - Create awareness about international student-related issues in the classroom and in other programs across the university.
  - Create awareness about graduate and professional student-related issues in the classroom and in other programs across the university.
  - Communicate the procedure that encourages students to report incidences of bias. Ensure that the current procedure minimizes the fear and repercussions that could result as a consequence of reporting.
  - Generate and publicize a directory of current diversity-driven student groups. Encourage those groups to collaborate to create solutions for diversity-related issues and engage in conversations around race, gender, sexuality, and difference.

➢ Enhance effectiveness of curriculum and educational programs with regards to diversity and inclusion
Increase opportunities for faculty members to learn and apply effective pedagogies for teaching diverse student populations by expanding offerings and resources within the Faculty Fellows program, the Center for Teaching and Learning, the Center for Communication, Difference, and Equity.

Provide systemic training to teaching and research assistants on the impact of diversity in the classroom, including climate, course design, pedagogy, assessment, and cultural responsiveness.

Create a diversity question bank that can be added to course evaluations and make it accessible to each department. Establish a searchable database of questions where units can share information.

Assess the impact of the recently implemented student diversity course requirement by including questions about it in the student climate survey.

Goal 2: Attract, Retain, and Graduate a Diverse and Excellent Student Body

The University must continue to actively recruit and support a diverse body of undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. The University must increase its capacity to serve students from historically underrepresented groups; students from low- and modest-income families; students who identify as disabled, LGBTQ+, and veterans; international students; transfer students; and students who are part of recent immigrant populations.

Recommended Priorities and Suggested Action Steps

- Ensure continued progress toward achieving diversity in the undergraduate student body
  - Establish collaborative relationships between central recruitment and outreach services and departments to better coordinate K-12 pipeline programs, two-year institutions, and initiatives to connect potential students to academic departments.
  - Explore multiple mechanisms and funding opportunities to expand recruitment and retention of students from underrepresented groups, veterans, LGBTQ+, recent immigrants, students with disabilities, and low-income students, and consult the Enrollment Management Advisory Committee, where possible.
  - Increase outreach to state community, two-year, and tribal colleges in order to create smoother pathways for diverse transfer students.
  - Work with Advancement and external communities to increase scholarship funding to support underrepresented minority students.
  - Monitor demographic trends in high school and community college student populations to prepare for shifting priorities in outreach and recruitment.

- Improve retention and graduation rates for underrepresented undergraduate students to reach rates comparable to all UW undergraduate students
  - Provide comprehensive financial aid packages that will enable students to earn degrees and implement proactive advising of students to ensure financial literacy and management of resources.
- Document migration from pre-majors in high demand fields and develop strategies to improve access to majors of choice for underrepresented students.
- Strengthen student mentoring by enhancing advising strategies, such as early warning and intervention systems, for underrepresented, veteran, first-generation, and low-income students.
- Develop strong partnerships among diversity units and academic departments to secure outside funding for projects to increase the success of underrepresented students.

Ensure continued progress toward recruitment and retention of graduate and professional students
- Develop and strengthen relationships with existing pipeline initiatives to encourage underrepresented, veteran, LGBTQ+, first-generation, and low-income students from UW and other regional colleges and universities to attend graduate school at the UW.
- Increase collaboration between GO-MAP and academic departments so that departments can contact, host, and recruit students interested in their programs.
- Improve mechanisms for recruitment staff members across the University to collaborate on outreach to potential graduate students.
- Develop competitive financial packages to increase enrollment of accepted students. Monitor impact of increased tuition and cuts to TA and RA positions on underrepresented students.
- Develop or enhance diversity-related course offerings based on national trends in curriculum within each discipline.
- Increase mentoring opportunities for underrepresented graduate and professional students.

Goal 3: Attract and Retain a Diverse Faculty

The University must maximize opportunities to recruit diverse faculty and ensure that efforts at retention and advancement become central. There must be a focus on issues of professional development and an establishment of support networks in order to successfully recruit, retain, and advance faculty.

Recommended Priorities and Suggested Action Steps

- Strengthen and diversify faculty hiring practices
  - Work toward goal of 100% participation of deans and associate/divisional deans in search committee training that addresses best practices, implicit bias, equity, and cultural responsiveness.
  - Encourage the dean of each school/college to certify that a broad and inclusive search has been conducted for each faculty hire by requesting availability pool data from the Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action.
Pursue cluster hires where appropriate, particularly when opportunities exist across units. Promote visibility of research area and teaching needs of each department.

Update current hiring practices by analyzing annual hiring data to help attract more diverse faculty applicant pools for each search.

- Utilize best practices to improve the recruitment of underrepresented faculty
  - Encourage all search committee members to use the Handbook of Best Practices for Faculty Searches and online Toolkit in order to generate an understanding of techniques that may better attract a more diverse pool of applicants.
  - Utilize availability data and applicant flow information in faculty hiring processes to monitor and improve applicant pools.
  - Encourage units to create a database of information collected from relevant faculty pipeline programs so they can contact, host, and recruit program participants who are interested in faculty careers.
  - Explore post-doctoral opportunities that attract diverse faculty.

- Develop school/college practices that support the retention and advancement of underrepresented faculty
  - Create opportunities that support professional development for faculty. Provide resources for units seeking assistance with developing these programs.
  - Work toward goal of 100% faculty participation in cultural responsiveness training.
  - Establish best practices in tenure and promotion review for how to recognize the contributions of faculty who mentor underrepresented students and provide service to underserved communities. Units should ensure that these contributions do not prohibit faculty from advancing in rank in a timely manner.
  - Provide professional development and leadership advancement opportunities to promote an equitable presence of URM faculty in University administration.
  - Offer workshops for junior faculty members to clarify the tenure and promotion process, including third-year reviews, annual reports, and compilation of tenure files.
  - Improve on-boarding for new faculty by providing them access to diversity resources and information regarding affinity groups.

Goal 4: Attract and Retain a Diverse Staff

The University must maximize opportunities to recruit diverse staff members and ensure that efforts at retention and advancement become central. There must be a focus on staff on-boarding and professional development to successfully recruit, retain, and advance staff.

Recommended Priorities and Suggested Action Steps
➢ Improve recruitment processes and strengthen staff hiring practices to diversify workforce
  o Update current hiring practices by analyzing annual hiring data to help attract more diverse staff applicant pools.
  o Provide potential job candidates with information about affinity groups to publicize the existence of URM networks.
  o Utilize availability data and applicant flow information in staff hiring processes to monitor and improve diversity of applicant pools.
  o Encourage units to use the Staff Diversity Hiring Toolkit to generate an understanding of techniques that may better attract a more diverse pool of applicants.
  o Modify the UWHR On-Boarding Toolkit to include information and spread awareness about affinity groups.

➢ Develop school/college practices that support the retention and advancement of underrepresented staff
  o Create opportunities that support professional development for staff. Provide a resource within UWHR for units seeking assistance with developing these programs.
  o Work toward goal of 100% staff participation in cultural responsiveness training.
  o Monitor the advancement of URM staff by conducting an annual review of staff reclassification and promotion within units.
  o Establish best practices on how to avoid placing the burden on staff of color to be the same, single representative on every search committee.
  o Provide professional development and leadership advancement opportunities to promote the equitable presence of URM staff in University administration.
  o Provide administrative leaders information on succession planning and diversity.
  o Encourage staff to participate in affinity groups by informing them of the existence of these networks.
  o Ensure that resources from OMA&D continue to be available to affinity groups and publicize best practices for how to efficiently use those resources.

Goal 5: Assess Tri-Campus Diversity Needs

The UW must assess tri-campus diversity needs regarding programming and related efforts that engage students, faculty, and staff in order to promote collaboration and inclusivity across the Seattle, Tacoma, and Bothell campuses. The UW must then work to increase access to information related to diversity and inclusion, encourage a broader range of perspectives, and promote a commitment to opportunities for shared experiences.

Recommended Priorities and Suggested Action Steps
➢ Enhance communication and collaboration across campuses
  o Establish regular meetings for Diversity Officers and Diversity Leaders from Seattle, Tacoma, and Bothell.
  o Develop an annual Diversity Update for each campus that is based on a standardized format of diversity-related data and programming. Create an annual comprehensive UW Diversity Update based on the Updates provided by each campus.

➢ Track and develop diversity-related programming that is accessible to faculty and staff at all three campuses o Create an inventory of and highlight existing diversity-related workshops, trainings, and resources, and communicate that faculty and staff are welcome and encouraged to attend trainings on any campus.
  o Establish, where needed, faculty and TA workshops that address diversity-related issues in the classroom, including the inequities that underrepresented populations face at their respective campus.
  o Create support for collaborative research efforts across the three campuses and recognize those faculty who demonstrate innovative contributions with a diversity research award.
  o Provide access to resources for faculty and for staff across the three campuses to develop peer communities that provide insight and best practices from their experiences to their members.

➢ Evaluate accessibility of diversity and inclusion resources at all three campuses o Coordinate online databases of diversity-related resources so that students, faculty, and staff from all campuses can easily access information.
  o Create a comprehensive diversity programming calendar across all three campuses. Publicize workshops that are open to all students, faculty, and staff.
  o Develop and publicize “diversity pride points” that describe the diversity-related progress made by students, faculty, and staff at each campus.
  o Publicize supplier diversity-related resources (departments, programs, workshops, websites and brown bag sessions) that students, faculty and staff can easily access.

Goal 6: Improve Accountability and Transparency

University leadership must commit to working towards established diversity and inclusion goals. Leaders at all levels must accept accountability by implementing new initiatives to achieve those goals, ensure that best practices are disseminated within and across all three campuses, and make clear the University’s commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Recommended Priorities and Suggested Action Steps

➢ Create standards to serve as a guide for deans and department chairs
Implement annual surveys that review the units' hiring, retention, utilization of diverse suppliers, and other diversity practices based on systematically collected data and create a report for deans, directors, and chairs.

Use data on faculty hiring and student enrollment when planning future courses of action regarding outreach and recruitment. Ensure that policies, planning, and decision-making processes are informed by diversity-related best practices.

Work toward goal of 100% participation of deans, associate/divisional deans, directors, and chairs in diversity training, and include diversity metrics as part of dean, associate/divisional dean, and program reviews.

Require the creation or renewal of unit-level diversity committees that must submit an annual diversity report that specifies progress on the diversity blueprint goals. Offer diversity committees a set of best practices that can be incorporated into their existing diversity plans.

Create a Standard Operating Procedure for communication between the Diversity Council and deans and associate/divisional deans.

Maintain an online database of best practices on the diversity portal that is accessible to faculty and staff.

Ensure that University units successfully contribute toward compliance measures

Continue to build an institutional culture that values and supports the highest levels of compliance with federal, state, and local laws and regulations.

Incentivize the implementation of successful diversity and inclusion initiatives for University units and engage University leadership in disseminating information about those efforts

Establish an annual President's Community Engagement and Diversity Award in recognition of a particular academic unit that impacted community and diversity at the University. The award should include a grant for future diversity-related initiatives.

Publicize and recognize units that have demonstrated successful outreach and recruitment efforts.

Appoint University leadership to host workshops for units to share best practices in recruiting and retaining diverse students, faculty, and staff, improving and surveying climates, and diversifying curriculum.

Establish an understanding of diversity-related leadership

Create a University document that identifies the infrastructure of diversity offices and committees.

Increase funding for diversity and inclusion initiatives

Fund diversity and inclusion proposals that focus on increasing the presence of faculty, staff and students from underrepresented groups.

Commit to making diversity and inclusion funding a priority in upcoming capital campaigns.
Glossary of Terms

Affinity Groups: Groups of faculty and staff at the university who are linked by a common identity. Affinity groups are supported by the UW as a way to advance recruitment and retention efforts.

Availability Pool Data: The number and demographics of eligible and qualified individuals across the country for a particular faculty position.

Cluster Hiring: Hiring faculty into the same or multiple departments or schools based on shared and sometimes interdisciplinary research topics.

Cultural Responsiveness: Recognizing the importance of including cultural references in all aspects of learning.

Implicit Bias: Negative associations people knowingly or unknowingly hold that are expressed automatically, without conscious awareness.

Racial Equity: The condition that would be achieved if one's racial identity no longer predicted, in a statistical sense, how one fares.

URM: Underrepresented Minority
